Lets move on and financially rape some other evil corporation with deep pockets. What shows the attackers of Microsoft for what they are, despicable whoring thieves, when Microsoft said that they would in essence, give up their code ( the original request) by providing FREE software/computers to schools,it still was not enough - nothing will ever be enough. Have some political balls, now that that embarrassment - Reno is gone, and move and do something important for once in a decade.

Yours truly, Russell Kestler
